

10 Reasons

You Should Absolutely

Consider a Career in the

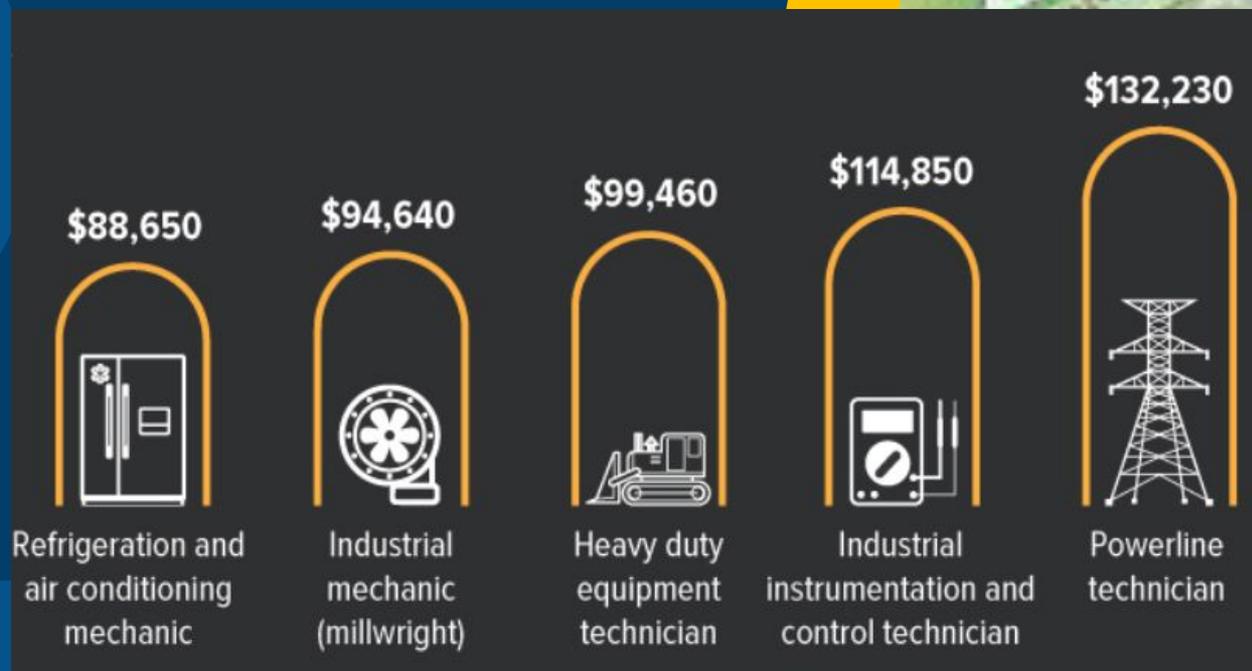

Skilled Trades

There is huge demand for skilled tradespeople right now

- 60,000 Person Shortage Of Skilled Worker Apprentices By 2025
- 700,000 trade workers retiring by 2028

Your annual salary could hit $75K—or more

Education is accessible (and you can get paid to learn)

Apprentices can earn as they learn!

Red Seal Certification allows you to travel the country, or even the world

Your skills are portable!

4

Trades are evolving with technological innovations

Get ready for new and exciting opportunities!

There is room for people with various skill sets

Specialize in an area that uses your strengths. Do what you're good at!

lots of opportunities for advancement

“The skilled trades offer plenty of opportunity for advancement in positions that challenge your intellect, as well as managerial and leadership abilities.”

Some trades are recession-resistant

Through COVID-19
skilled tradespeople have been keeping life going

Greater diversity of trades than many people realize

- 140 designated trades in Ontario
- more than 300 in Canada

Do what you like to do!

Job satisfaction is high—and so is job security

“job satisfaction in the skilled trades remains remarkably high, with 83 percent of tradespeople satisfied in their choice of work.”

